"Christ determined to make the giving and sharing of love His main objective in life. Such love was met with many obstacles and losses. Christ considered a true man to be one who could face obstacles and move forward in love. Don't give in to losses and pain. Don't be carried away with pleasure. Face everything with equanimity. Christ could never see suffering passively... He dedicated His life in the service of men and propagation of love."

- Sathya Sai Baba, 25 December 1995
